The Oakland Tribune.

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS — FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE IT SERVES — ★ CITY EDITION

THURSDAY

MARCH 16, 1995

Living in the now

■ Oakland author struggles to apply '60s ideals in the '90s

CUE

Tour groups hit by baseball strike

BUSINESS DAY

Sunny
High 60
Low 49
Map, A-2

Stay in L.A.

■ NFL votes down proposed Rams move to St. Louis

SPORTS DAY

Woman dies during religious ritual

Eun Park founded the Jesus-Amen Ministries. Park and four ministry members are accused of killing Kyung-A Ha in a ritual in which they beat her to cast out demons.

By Harry Harris and Robert Salladay
STAFF WRITERS

EMERYVILLE — The founder and four members of a tiny religious group beat a 25-year-old woman to death during a six-hour, tape-recorded prayer ceremony "to cast out demons," police said Wednesday.

The victim lay dead for four days in a luxury Bay Street apartment before her relatives — finally summoned by the group's leader — found her body Sunday morning, police said.

Kyung-A Ha, who may have been diagnosed schizophrenic, "died a painful death supposedly in the name of Jesus Christ," said Emeryville Detective Barbara McDaniel.

The five women suspects were charged with murder Wednesday by Alameda County Senior Deputy District Attorney Bob Platt, who called the case the most bizarre he has seen in his 38 years in law enforcement.

■ Patten Bible College shocked that students took part in ritual beating.
A-10

As she tried to fight back, Ha was pummeled at least 100 times and suffered 10 broken ribs before she died, McDaniel said.

The three-bedroom Bay Street apartment served as the organization's place of worship. Police said the fundamentalist group should not be considered

Please see Woman, A-10

LAURA A. ODA — Staff photos

Hwa Ra, left, Jung Sin, Natasha Baboulina and Evgeniya Mogilevskaya were charged in the killing of Kyung-A Ha.

Cop denies uttering slur

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey and prosecutor Marcia Clark exchanged heated words Wednesday during O.J. Simpson's trial as Clark said Bailey lied in court.

Fuhrman claims that anyone saying otherwise will be lying

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Under oath Wednesday, Detective Mark Fuhrman denied uttering even once in the last 10 years the racial slur that O.J. Simpson's lawyers say their witnesses stand ready to pin on him.

Furthermore, the detective insisted, any person who testifies that he used the word is a liar.

"All of them?" defense attorney F. Lee Bailey asked.

"All of them," Fuhrman said evenly.

Fuhrman, facing the third day of Bailey's attack, flatly denied the accusation that has made him a lightning rod for defense claims that racism motivated him to frame Simpson for two murders.

"Do you use the word n——?" Bailey asked.

"No," the witness said firmly.

Outside the jury's presence, Bailey presented the most detailed account yet of how Fuhrman might have planted a bloody glove on

Please see Slur, A-10

Attorneys' feud gets personal

NEW YORK TIMES

LOS ANGELES — Smoldering tensions between the opposing lawyers in the O.J. Simpson case broke out into the open on Wednesday.

Marcia Clark and F. Lee Bailey tangled over such questions as candor with the court, the low station of lawyers, the honor of the Marine Corps and Bailey's manliness.

Ostensibly at issue were representations Bailey made Tuesday about a witness who he said could buttress defense claims that Detective Mark Fuhrman is a racist.

But lurking beneath the surface were strains between two advocates who differ dramatically not just in sex but in generational outlooks, loyalties and oratorical styles.

Clark called Bailey a liar, suggested he had not done his homework, and likened his view of reality

Please see Lawyers, A-10

Berkeley plans a drill and grill for everyone

By William Brand
STAFF WRITER

BERKELEY — In what appears to be the first event of its kind in the state, officials want to stage a huge annual earthquake drill involving practically everyone in town.

Other cities in California have tried to hold regular earthquake drills but these have generally involved only public safety workers, an emergency services expert said Wednesday.

■ Livermore lab scientists are teaming up with Caltrans to use computer technology to shore up freeway structures.

■ It wasn't the Big One, but El Cerrito and surrounding communities received a sharp jolt Wednesday.
A-10

Berkeley's drill would be for everyone who wants to participate — kids, parents, Cal students, neighborhood groups, city and university workers — and would end with a gargantuan barbecue in the park to celebrate and critique the day.

It's a New England town hall meeting, Californiastyle.

"We want a designated time every year for everybody who lives and works here to pause and think about their earthquake plans — what they would do if there had just been a disastrous earthquake," said Mayor Shirley Dean, who is co-sponsoring a council resolution on the citywide drill along with City Councilmember Carla Woodworth.

Please see Drill, A-10

Where the farm money's going

Hundreds of people who receive farm subsidies live in Alameda and Contra Costa counties. The payments were made from 1985 to 1994.

| City | Number of recipients | Total paid |
|---|---|---|
| Oakland | 178 | $2,767,301 |
| Berkeley | 131 | 3,533,935 |
| Richmond | 39 | 233,193 |
| Pleasanton | 102 | 2,183,830 |
| Livermore | 219 | 4,186,822 |
| Hayward | 85 | 1,012,245 |
| San Leandro | 66 | 617,669 |
| Fremont | 120 | 843,983 |
| Newark | 31 | 474,339 |
| Alameda | 61 | 661,254 |

Source: Environmental Working Group — Staff

Urban dwellers harvesting farm subsidies

McCLATCHY NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON — "City slickers" living in the nation's top 50 urban areas collected more than $1.3 billion in farm subsidies over the past decade, a comprehensive new study shows.

Fresno and Sacramento ranked first and second, respectively, among cities nationwide whose residents harvested the subsidies.

That's probably predictable, given their location within the heart of California's fertile Central Valley.

But with millions of dollars in crop-subsidy payments also flowing to residents of New York City, Detroit, Philadelphia, and checks finding their way to tony Bay Area enclaves like Piedmont and Tiburon or urban centers like Berkeley and Oakland, the new report provides ready ammunition for opponents of the current federal farm program.

Although the "city slickers" received less than 2 percent of the total farm subsidies, the study's formal release today is meant to influence the farm program debate.

"It's time for change," Environmental Working Group President Kenneth Cook asserts in the new report. "Sending hundreds of thousands of federal farm-subsidy checks . . . to a handful of city dwellers each year can hardly be the best, fairest or most efficient way to help farmers stay on the land."

Cook is offering his report today to a sympathetic audience: Senate Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry Committee chairman Richard Lugar. Lugar, an Indiana Republican and presidential contender, seeks to

Please see Subsidies, A-10

STORMS OF '95

Starting to total the costs

As Californians can finally enjoy the sunshine and mop up, the reality of lost crops and lost jobs is starting to add up.

Details on A-7

NEWSEYE

Elephant sale moving

OAKLAND — The Oakland Museum's king-size White Elephant Sale, which this year grossed a record $455,000, soon will have a new "trunk" to store items.

The huge rummage sale, which has been held in rented warehouses in the past, moves to permanent, larger quarters next year — a warehouse at 333 Lancaster St.

Judith McKee, spokeswoman for the museum Women's Board, said receipts from the March 4 and 5 event bring proceeds over the years to more than $8 million.

Donations for next spring's sale will be accepted after May 1. Call 839-5919 for information.

Missouri legislature tries novel approach, outlaws sex

JEFFERSON CITY — The Missouri legislature may have managed to outlaw sex.

Not that that was the intention. Rather, it's the result of varying interpretations of a measure passed last session to modify the law governing sex between consenting teen-agers. An effort to use the bill to forbid homosexual sex left the final wording muddled.

The new law states that "a person commits the crime of sexual misconduct in the first degree if he has deviate sexual intercourse with another person of the same sex, or he purposely subjects another person to sexual contact or engages in conduct which would constitute sexual contact except that the touching occurs through the clothing without that person's consent."

As written, says Dan Vieta, president of the Missouri Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, the law appears to outlaw any sexual contact — even between husband and wife.

"No one thought to analyze what it really said," says Vieta.

Some legislators think the measure outlaws only homosexual sex and nonconsensual sex. Others believe it actually legalizes consensual gay sex.

Either way, most everyone agrees it is unlikely that any lawbreaking Missourians will find themselves in handcuffs.

FROM STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

Clinton keeps 'em laughing

WASHINGTON — President Clinton was full of one-liners Tuesday night at the Radio and Television Correspondents Association dinner.

Clinton joked "this is by far the largest group of radio and television correspondents ever assembled this far from a Los Angeles courtroom."

He also amused the audience with ideas for cutting government bureaucracy, such as getting rid of either North Dakota or South Dakota as redundant.

Or combining the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms with both the Bureau of Fisheries and the Interstate Trucking Commission. "We'll call it The Department of Guys."

Good morning . . .

Another win

Golden State captures its fourth win in five games by beating the Lakers on Wednesday. [B-1]

Dancing away

West Oakland students get a chance to learn from some of the world's best. [A-13]

Read, then recycle
We use recycled paper

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| BUSINESS DAY | C-1 | HORSE RACING | B-10 | PAYTON | A-17 |
| CLASSIFIED | C-1 | LEGALS | B-8 | SCOREBOARD | B-11 |
| COMICS | CLE-4 | LOCAL | A-13 | SPORTS DAY | B-1 |
| CROSSWORD | CLE-5 | LOTTERY | A-2 | STOCKS | C-3 |
| EDITORIAL | A-18 | MOVIES | CLE-3 | TELEVISION | CLE-6 |
| HOROSCOPE | CLE-7 | OBITUARIES | A-14 | WEATHER | A-2 |

© 1995 Alameda Newspaper Group

122nd Year, No. 23